The Spirit of Giving Weekend. Join us for the Spirit of Giving Holiday Lighting Weekend from 6-10 p.m., December 19 & 20 at Murphy Park in Downtown Glendale. The holidays are a time of generosity, so what could be better than a whole weekend recognizing those who give back to our community? It'll do your heart good to get into the spirit of giving by paying tribute to those selfless organizations who make our community a better place to live. Free admission and free parking mean you can bring the whole family and not break the bank! And don't forget to stop by and visit Santa Claus! Bring your camera, or have Santa's helper snap one for a small fee. For more information, click here or call (623) 930-2299.

Glendale's first Crisis Response Dog. Glendale Fire Department Crisis Response (CR) Program has recently entered its seventh year of service in the community and has made an important addition to the team. The team of crisis response volunteers welcomes Topaz, the first crisis response dog to work with a fire department.

The year and a half old yellow lab has been through extensive training and can actually sense when people are frightened or grieving. Topaz is used as a tool for communication. "He actually helps build a therapeutic bridge between the customer and the crisis interventionist," said Lynette Jelinek, Glendale Fire Human Services Division Manager. "He helps lighten the mood, and brings a calming effect to a situation that may seem out of control". Read more.

Engineering Excellence. Congratulations to the Glendale Engineering Department for being honored at the 28th Annual Engineering Excellence Awards for three city projects!

The Glendale Oasis Water Campus and the Glendale Park and Ride both received Grand Awards and the Glendale Downtown Pedestrian Enhancement project received an Honor Award.

The American Council of Engineering Companies of Arizona recognized these projects because they not only demonstrate excellence in engineering, but they also reflect innovative and environmentally-friendly applications.

A "Grand Award" for the Glendale Oasis Water Campus recognized the combination of cutting-edge and traditional treatment technologies that essentially enhances the city's water quality goals, including particulate removal, taste and odor control. The second "Grand Award" for the Glendale Park and Ride showcased the benefits of using pervious concrete in parking areas, which helped set new principals for a user-friendly, environmentally-sensitive park & ride facility. Its "green" features will help curb the urban heat island effect.

An Honor Award for the Downtown Pedestrian Enhancement Project acknowledged its unique design for refurbishing 65-square blocks into a city gateway entrance feature.

Register Now for Recreation Classes. The Glendale Parks and Recreation Department is now accepting registration for over 140 different classes available to all ages for its winter session. Classes are available for youth, teen and adults in the areas of culinary arts, fine arts, languages, music, dance, computers, personal development, financial/business and exercise/sports.

Recreational classes increase health, reduce stress, build social networks, increase personal and business skills, provide motor-skill development, provide self-improvement and build cultural awareness.

The classes are held throughout Glendale at a variety of times and days. Most classes will begin the week of January 12 and are offered as one-day or for several weeks. Class prices vary.
